FORTY-SECOND YEAR NO. 47

CEDARVILLE, OHIO, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1919

PRICE, $1.50 A YEAR

REPUBLICANS WILL ORGANIZE FOR THE NEXT CAMPAIGN.

An important meeting among Republicans of the Seventh Congressional District was held in Springfield, Tuesday, at Memorial hall. Previous to the meeting those present took lunch at the Shawnee hotel.

The object of the meeting was a plan for party organization for the 1920 campaign and George H. Clarke of Canton, chairman of the State Advisory committee made an earnest appeal for party victory. Lack of organization and overconfidence cost the party the victory in 1916. Laying aside of factional fights was also urged as was the nomination of good men for county offices.

One of the most applauded statements made by Mr. Clarke was in reference to Congressman Fess.

"Mr. Fess is the only Ohio congressman, who is known all over the state," he said. "He is not only a clear thinker and doer, but he has courage. If he thinks he is right, nothing can move him."

N. H. Fairbanks presided at the meeting. Dr. H. E. Messenger was chosen as chairman for the county to lead in the work of organization of local Republican clubs. The other counties in the district will each have organizers.

The following delegation attended from this county:

Marcus Shoup, T. H. Zell, J. K. Williamson, M. A. Broadstone, J. Carl Marshall, H. C. Messenger, J. A. Chew, I. T. Cummins, H. E. Schmidt, George A. Birch, C. L. Darlington, W. B. Bryson and County Auditor R. O. Wead of Xenia; Karik Bull of Cedarville, J. N. Wolford of Yellow Springs.

THE WELSH GLIE QUARTET.

The first number of the Lecture Course for this season is the Welsh Glee Quartet, which will give its entertainment Monday evening, Nov. 24th.

The Welsh Male Quartet consists of four excellent Welsh singers. The Welsh sing as soon as they are out of the cradle, when they are able to walk they begin to compete in the singing contests or eisteddfods, as they call them. The four singers in this company are no exception to these rules and what is more, it is said they have been singing together as a quartet for many years there having been but one change in the personnel in six years and that was occasioned by the death of one of their own number last year when the quartet was singing.

Their program will consist of popular and classical music. Costumed songs of the London coterie and musical readings and variety.

This will be an exceptionally good program. Do not miss hearing it. The quartet will be open at Johnson's Jewelry Store, Saturday, November 22nd.

INCREASE MINISTERS' PAY.

Fifty thousand Methodist clergymen in this country will get an increase of salary through the action of the Centenary Committee. This committee has fixed $1,500 as a fair average for ministers salaries, quite an increase over the average in 1917 which was only $825. Church workers have lamented the fact that so few young men have been attracted to the pulpit the past few years. More money, spent at home might make the salaries attractive and lend encouragement towards filling the depleted ranks of clergymen.

FARMERS WANT NO UNIONS.

The invitation of labor leaders in this country to have farm organizations unite with the American Federation of Labor has been turned down. While not all the labor leaders are Bolshevists by any means, just at present the conservative labor leaders are fighting to keep the radical element from gaining control of their organization.

CLARK'S RUN CLUB MEETS.

The Clark's Run Club met Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Ada Stormont about 80 being present to enjoy the evening. Mr. O. E. Bradfute told of his mission to Washington as a member of the industrial conference and the problems they had to solve. Refreshments were served and a very enjoyable evening was spent by all present.

XENIA FOLLOWS CEDARVILLE.

The City Commission of Xenia has adopted the incandescent system of street lighting like what is used in this place. The old arc lights go in to the discard after the first of the year. The city gets 32 additional lamps under the new plan for $1,622 less than under the old contract.

FIXING SCHOOL FURNACES.

A representative of the Columbus Heating & Ventilating Co. has been here this week fixing the school furnaces. That unknown have never been regulated right since they were put in and the board was unable to get an expert from the factory until this week.

INSURANCE AGENT FORGES NOTE ON W. H. ARTHUR.

Joe A. Boroff, supposed to be of Van Wert, O., representing himself as an agent of the Union Central Life Insurance Co., of Cincinnati, with headquarters in Xenia, is missing after forging a note on W. H. Arthur and selling same to John Harbison of Xenia.

It develops that Boroff had at one time been an agent of the company but not at the time the forgery was committed.

He interested Mr. Arthur in taking out a paid up policy of $2000 for his son Howard. The note calls for $598.16 with interest from June 3 until Nov. 3, making a total of more than $800.

Boroff sold the note to John Harbison as he did another which leaves Mr. Harbison in the lurch for more than $1000. Just who the second note was on we have not learned.

Mr. Arthur was not aware of such a note until notified by the Exchange Bank that it was there for collection. The Bank had notified Mr. Harbison when it was presented that the signature did not look like Mr. Arthur's though it was a good imitation.

We understand that Mr. Harbison will attempt to force Mr. Arthur to pay the note.

Boroff has been missing for a number of weeks and his whereabouts at this time are unknown.

Mr. Arthur never received his policy from the Cincinnati company and it has been learned that the man was not working for the U. C. but another insurance company.

HONORS NEW PASTOR.

The M. E. congregation gave a dinner and reception last Friday evening in the church parlors honoring their new pastor, the Rev. V. E. Busler and family.

In the receiving line were Mrs. John Townsend, Mrs. T. V. Bluff, Mrs. Edith Blair and Mrs. B. H. Little, and Rev. Busler and wife and three sons.

The honor guests and the visiting ministers and their wives were seated at a table in the center of the dining room, covers being laid for fifteen. The table was decorated with a large bouquet of chrysanthemums in yellow and pink.

The dinner was in charge of the Ladies' Aid Society of the church. The entertainment of the occasion was given by L. D. Parker. Those who were on the speaking program were Prof. Wesley representing the district board; G. H. Hartman the Sunday School; Walter Graham the Epworth League; Mrs. C. E. Masters the women of the church. Mrs. Busler responded in a very appropriate manner.

Rev. J. P. White of the U. P. congregation, Rev. W. P. Harriman of the R. P. congregation and Dr. McChesney of Cedarville College each gave short talks. Rev. Busler in his response expressed the appreciation of himself and his family for the courtesies extended. There was a very pleasing musical program. Miss Winifred Stuckey with a vocal solo, Miss Mildred Trumbo and Mrs. Alice Huffman piano solos each and then a duet.

The 200 guests parted after singing "How Firm A Foundation" and "Blest Be the Tie that Binds."

NEW TAXATION PROGRAM.

A new taxation program which will be submitted to the Ohio legislature next month will contain the following planks:

A state income tax. Graduated auto tax. Debt limitation for all political subdivisions.

A budget system for all taxing districts.

Exemption on personal property of $500 instead of the present $200 exemption.

This law will be submitted by the Ohio Home Protective League in lieu of the classification of property law which was defeated at the polls last Tuesday.

NEWS PAPER PRICES SOAR.

The price of news print paper continues to soar regardless of the fact that the war is over. The price now is over the war prices and wholesale houses are unable to buy from the mills. Labor conditions and coal shortage has caused many mills to be closed down. Many daily papers are unable to buy future paper at any price.

SAME OVER HERE.

"The unchangeable odor of it all you walk on the streets of Jamestown some evening proclaims the tangy effect that the stunk season is now on. —Greene County Journal.

SLAUGHTERING STARTS.

Sandy Cutliffe, who has a slaughter outfit on wheels and probably butchers more hogs for farmers than any other man in the county, started last week on his rounds among farmers ready to butcher their hogs for winter meat. Mr. Cutliffe always has as much or more of this kind of work than he can do during the winter.

NEW HUNTING GROUNDS.

WHAT THE FILES SAY.

Issue February 3, 1894.

The news published in the Columbus papers that Rev. Dudley, chaplain of the Ohio Pen has been discharged caused quite a bit of comment here where he is well known.

The Cedarville Band will give a concert in the near future. Prof. W. B. Thacker is in charge.

A number of local people are making arrangements for the organization of a local building and loan association.

H. A. McLean has started a new dry line and this one makes the sixth one in operation.

J. G. McCorkell has taken a position with McGervey & LeSourd, insurance firm of Xenia.

Issue February 10, 1894.

Hugh McMillan died at his home north of town last Saturday. He was the first of the McMillan family to locate in this vicinity, coming from Chester District South Carolina.

D. H. McFarland and family have removed from Xenia to Cedarville. Several students of the High School were suspended this week by Prof. Sayre pending action by the board.

Issue February 24, 1894.

Charley Crouse, who has been attending school at Ada, has returned home.

A marriage took place this week. That of William Pickering to Miss Ida May Kizer of Xenia.

The annual convention of the Greene County Sabbath School Association was held in the U. P. church Monday and Tuesday.

TAXPAYERS PAY THE BILL.

Under the new health law we understand the salary list for this new board will reach nearly $10,000 in this county. According to official figures $5,500 was the cost to county under the old law, which included $25 salaries for the clerks of the boards and sanitary policemen. Another feature of the new law is that the new board can create such debts as it deems best and then certifies the amount over to the commissioners or township trustees, as the case may be and it is mandatory for these officials to issue bonds to meet the bill. No need to worry as the taxpayer must foot the bill for ninety-nine cents of every dollar of this $10,000 salary grab goes into the pockets of the medical fraternity. The so-called evils of classification of property for taxation were mild as compared to this law which was forced through the legislature by the Ohio Medical Association or its agents or lobbyists. A dispatch yesterday states that hundreds of townships and a number of counties cannot comply with the provisions of this law and Gov. Cox has called the state health advisory board to meet and draft amendments to be presented to the legislature at the opening session in December.

H. S. THANKSGIVING ENTERTAINMENT.

The Second Literary Society of Cedarville High School will give a Thanksgiving entertainment in the High School auditorium, Friday evening, Nov. 28. The program will consist of music, readings, play entitled "The Mysterious Thanksgiving Guest," illustration of our first Thanksgiving and a drill entitled "The Autumn Leaves." Please encourage the children by your presence at this entertainment.

TURKEYS ARE SCARCE.

There will be no great supply of turkeys this season for the Thanksgiving feast. Live birds are now selling around 5 and 40 cents a pound while dressed retails at 55 to 60.

FOR A DRY WORLD.

The National W. O. T. U. has set aside $60,000 a year for the next five years to assist in the campaign to help put the world dry. $38,500 of this amount goes to South America which is regarded as the most fertile field for prohibition.

OHIO NEWS IN BRIEF.

Entered at the Post-Office, Cedarville, O., October 21, 1897, as second class matter.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1919.

As we give more we get more.

The coal strikers have struck out.

The screen door and lawn swing are no longer needed.

The parsnip will now come into its own since the recent frosts.

Efficiency is a word that has lost its meaning in labor sections.

Sometimes we think there is too much freedom in this country.

A lot of people know a lot about price and nothing about value.

You had better look up your Thanksgiving turkey, also the price.

We hear it said that everybody is profiteering but we do not hear of anyone getting into trouble.

South Solon goes Republican and Editor-Mayor Strong can devote all his attention to newspaper duties.

Changing the quality and increasing the price will be all the reformation necessary to curtail smoking.

Everyone has his opinion about election results but to a man up a tree it looks like Republican.

Some one has given encouragement over the sugar shortage situation by saying the nation would have better health with less sugar.

If you have the price you can get the sugar. When it gets to 20 cents a pound there will be an abundance of it for sale.

Since the President has been sick the cabinet has been running the country. We have failed to observe any difference in the change of management.

We read that it is cheaper to live in Mexico than the U. S. From observations we are inclined to think there is no price on life in that Republic either.

Wall street suffered a crash on industrial securities that cost hundreds of investors millions of dollars. If this money was in Liberty bonds there would be no crash.

A Socialistic paper cries "Debs is rotting in prison" and not a single word have we heard about stopping this dreadful decay. The fact is that the Debs is better off in prison than out in society.

The editor of a well known magazine says that he is wearing the same pair of shoes he bought seventeen years ago when he was a student at Harvard. We suppose that this proves the advantage of having a college education.

DISGRACEFUL PROFITEERING

The most disgraceful picture of bad management during the war was developed in a recent testimony in Columbus in regard to the construction of Camp Sherman. Witnesses under oath declared that so called plumbers and steamfitters were playing cards and idling around their stoves while the hospitals containing sick soldiers were without heat. No effort was made to perfect the heating apparatus and make the hospital wards warm and comfortable. The testimony showed that the Red Cross nurses were compelled to wear furs and wraps in order to keep warm. The doctors had to wear their overcoats while sick soldiers shivered in their coats. These pictures will not soon be forgotten by the people of Ohio and for that matter, of the United States. That by reason of such shuffling and delaying the pay rolls might be padded and extended with the cost-plus profits while American boys, largely from Ohio, suffered and many of them died, is not going to be readily forgiven—ordinarily graft and stealage is one thing—brutal indifference to the sufferings of soldiers another.

HAPPINESS IN THE DISCARD.

Two old people on a farm in a distant state, offered $10,000 to a girl to take care of them until they died. The girl left after a year's trial and went back to the city. She said that she wanted to get married and she couldn't stand the loneliness of the farm life.

Poor girl, and poor people! They could not learn the secret of how to be happy together.

Of course, girls will want to get married; but they do not need to go to town to get a husband. Of course girls will get lonely sometimes; but a healthy mind and a wholesome heart are good company enough.

Here was a girl who was to get a fortune—to be actually paid for living on a farm. There are millions of girls who live on a farm for nothing. There are millions in the city streets who yearn for a quiet lane and a sight of the fields.

Here was a girl who had both hands full of potential happiness, and yet spilled the package and left it behind her while she ran back to the moving pictures and crowded factories of the city.

Yet there are singing girls all over this country who lovingly wait on the old folks and whose feet jump joyfully toward the barn or the chicken-coop or bee hive. Life on the farm is the life of nature, and nature's children are happy there on a thousand things that cannot be bought with mere money.

HOW MUCH DO YOU KNOW?

We believe that too many people are content to eat and sleep, with perhaps a little recreation thrown in and turn aside from any attempt to acquire useful information. We all recognize that education is not a matter of books and the poorest man, woman or child can get more out of life than he or she does. For instance, how many people in this community know how paper is made? It would be safe to assume that not one out of ten is acquainted with the process. You see dozens of automobiles every day but you have not given more than a passing thought to the brains back of the machine.

We are ignorant of the things with which we are most intimately connected. How are pins made? What do you know about sugar? You know it is scarce, that's all. What kind of a plant is tea and how does coffee grow? What are prunes? Where do olives come from? Can you tell the difference between oak, pine, poplar or cypress? What bird sings such pretty songs near your window in the spring? Have you any idea how the cloth in your clothes is produced?

No, we do not think these and a hundred other things are absolutely necessary, but it is a heap of satisfaction to know things and we ought to give some thought to the brain that makes possible the many necessities and conveniences of life. To broaden one's field of knowledge makes him more of a satisfaction to himself and decidedly more interesting to his family, friends and neighbors.

It is said that the Roosevelt Memorial campaign has not been the success hoped for at the start.

Relieves After Effects of Breaks and Sprains

Recovery from fractures and sprains is slow enough at best, but there is no use to be laid up any longer than absolutely necessary. Massage the injured part gently with Housatonic daily. Aching and soreness will quickly go. The case of Mr. Downing, who lives on Walnut St. in Waverly, O., is one of the many proofs of what Housatonic will do. Says Mr. Downing: "Some time ago, I hit the nail-fortune to break my leg. I tried several remedies without results, until I began using Housatonic Liniment, and am glad to testify that the results were beyond my expectations." On rheumatic joints and swellings too, Housatonic has an almost magical effect. Better get a bottle from your drugist and keep it handy. $1.00—half size 50c, trial size, 25c. Ask for Housatonic—e-a-h (The Original Jones' Liniment), and look for Dr. Jones' picture on the yellow wrapper. The Dr. J. C. Jones Co., So. Charleston O.

"What makes the Gallons so Big these days?"

It surely isn't the four little quarts! Every gallon has always had them. But gallons are measured in miles these days—at least when they're gallons of gasoline. And—you get a flock of miles per gallon when you use

Columbus Gasoline

It's really good gasoline because it's good real gasoline

There's no special trick in making it. Just take the highest-grade crude oil obtainable from the best wells and distill it.

The first thing anybody gets in distilling that sort of petroleum is highest-grade gasoline. And that's what we get. As soon as we get it we send it away and sell it to you, through any garage.

We used to call Columbus, White Rock, because it surely does last, but we've changed to Columbus to indicate lasting quality, right combustion and value—all three.

Columbus is nothing but honest to goodness gasoline and gasoline only.

That's why it makes the gallons so big, and makes your gas tank hold more miles than you ever thought it could hold.

Sweating and Sweating.
When in a fix, sweating will get you further than sweating.—Forbes Magazine.

Belgium has issued a call for American cats to combat the hordes of mice in that country. Several cat-goes can go with our permission, even to the leader of our neighborhood orchestra.

We suppose a lot of Ohioans feel better now that the Crab law was defeated. Those cellar investigations were not to the notion of some dries who wanted prohibition, but not the kind that would invade the home.

We hope the liquor question will be settled sometime so that those on the pay rolls of the wet and dry organizations may have gratified their intense yearnings to get back to their former productive pursuits and thus help in the patriotic work of reducing the high cost of living.

Mankind's Debt to Reading.
"Have you ever rightly considered what the mere ability to read means?" once asked James Russell Lowell, and elaborated his own question: "What it is the key which admits us to the whole world of thought and fancy and imagination? to the company of saint and sage, of the wisest and the wittiest at their wisest and wittiest moments? That it enables us to see with the keenest eyes, hear with the finest ears, and listen to the sweetest voices of all time? More than that it annihilates time and space for us."

Prostate Seizure of Book. A deed book of New York city more than 200 years old, in possession of J. E. Spanuth, a second-hand dealer of Pottsville, Pa., has been seized by authority of New York city officials. The book covers the period from 1687 to 1864, and contains the titles to most of the property in the financial district, worth hundreds of millions. Spanuth says he bought the book from an antiquarian and will contest the right of the city to seize it.

OHIO GLEANINGS

One per cent of Ross county's school children have trachoma, a contagious eye disease which often causes blindness if left untreated, according to the state department of health. The survey will be completed this week. A free clinic for the treatment of trachoma will be opened at Chillicothe next month.

Legend of Origin of Flowers.

In Sussex, England, the lily of the valley is said to be a memorial of the battle St. Leonard fought with a dragon. The holy man encountered the monster in the forest and battled with it for three days. At last the saint was victorious though wounded seriously, and wherever his blood dripped upon the ground there sprang up lilies of the valley in profusion. In France the lily of the valley is said to have sprung from the Virgin's tears.

A PARK-WAY GIRL

By JACK LAWTON.

Dora sat in Aunt Linda's beautifully kept garden, looking wistfully down the street. She hoped that she was not looking for Booth Arden, yet the old longing to see him was renewed by the familiarity of the place which had known his presence.

Upon her former visit, Booth, being the nephew of her aunt's particular friend, had met Dora, naturally, and also naturally, because of her accepted charm, had paid her much attention.

Dora liked Booth Arden, in fact his companionship had been the joy of her stay. She admitted this freely to herself, though she had laughingly waived the question when he had asked it. Yet Booth had seemed to understand her to read aright the serious light which grew in her eyes as he talked to her.

Dora, herself, was sure of his love. Even now after absence and perplexing change the assurance inexplicably remained. Booth loved her and she had been ready to return his love, when toward the ending of her previous visit, his attitude of adoring devotion had turned suddenly to cold formality.

Dora, stunned and pained, yet feligned indifference, went on her way.

"Do you suppose?" she first timidly asked Aunt Linda, "that I have in some way offended?"

Aunt Linda pursed her lips firmly together.

"Ann Arden is at the back of it all," she shrewdly answered. "Trust her to make trouble for me," said Dora. Aunt Linda smiled wryly. "She doesn't want that nephew of hers to marry," she explained, "and she's cunning enough to know how to prevent it."

"He had not asked me to marry him," Dora hesitatingly confessed.

"And he won't!" her aunt retorted, "as long as Ann Arden is around to see how things are going."

"I thought," Dora reproved, "that Miss Arden was your friend."

Two years had passed since the first visit at Aunt Linda's with no word or sign from the man who had brought this girl joy and sorrow. So now, as she watched the white avenue, she wondered if his car would come rolling along, and if with his sight of her it would stop—or go indifferently upon its way.

Answering her thought the car came, slowed down, hesitatingly with its owner's indication, then stopped. Booth Arden came toward her.

"Booth is running around a lot with your niece again," Miss Arden told Aunt Linda some time later, "but I hope you won't let her be deceived. Love-pretending is natural with him, and he's dividing his time with a girl up near the Park-way."

"Don't you ever," she commanded, "go out with that Booth Arden flirt again."

No more was Booth Arden's car seen at Aunt Linda's door, no more did a happy faced girl go flying down the path to meet him.

To Booth, his aunt spoke one evening in a tone which rang with "I told you so."

"That Dora Winthrop," she said, "goes strolling about with that Wesley every day. What Belinda can be thinking of to let her niece go about with a married man, and his wife not with them—is more than I can see. It was hard to make you believe in Dora's boasted flirtatiousness last year, though I had her own aunt's word for it. I must say, however, that I'm surprised at Wesley's lack of prudence."

Booth Arden arose at that moment to see Gall Wesley's pretentious car passing the window. Dora, fair and merry, sat at Gall's side.

Miss Arden grew vaguely troubled. It is easier to frustrate a known than an unknown foe.

Booth laughingly refused to divulge the name of the new charmer.

Aunt Belinda's manner was also troubled as her friend came over to call.

"I don't know what has got into Dora," she complained. "She will go riding with that Wesley whenever he hawks his auto horn for her. When I tell her it don't look right she just smiles and says that Mrs. Wesley is agreeable. It's really worse, Ann, than having her out with that deceiving nephew of yours; sometimes I think she's doing this to get even."

At this point of the conversation the sitting room door abruptly opened to admit two openly joyous young people. The women sat up and gasped at the sight of Dora enfolded in Booth's eager arms.

"We have just been married," he explained, "and we thought it best to stop in and tell you."

"Married!" cried Miss Arden sharply, "why I thought the Park-way girl—"

"I'm the Park-way girl," Dora answered demurely, "I have met Booth in the park every pleasant day. Gall Wesley carried me there in his car. It was Gall's wife who suggested that plan as a solution of our troubles; you really were making trouble for us you know," Dora added sweetly, "but that's all over now, and you are forgiven."

And she bent to kiss the astonished aunts.

Money in Blueberries. The average profit from an acre of Maine blueberry land is said to be about $100, and as no fertilizer or cultivation is necessary these berries are a quick and profitable crop. This is one of Washington county's big industries. For instance, the whole section from Porepuncie mountain to the east Machias line is practically all blueberry land. Several factories are devoted to the canning of the berries.

I was there to make a sketch of the scene like a feast. For the last, lunch was just over, and there is a varied menu. The first course I heard, as said sometimes Graham Crackers, "National Biscuit," calling in the crowd. This is changed on special occasions to Old Time Sugar Cookies, or even to the famous and rare, of course, as the days when we had cream and Nibbles, and these were our party days.

"Between the dark and the dawn," she was quoting, "there's always a bit of pause when the world seems waiting for the dawn to come. Then, when they come, they come to us in the form of a child, and we must feed them."

Then, when they come, they come to us in the form of a child, and we must feed them."

THE quality of the work turned out by the "1900" Cataract Washer is superior in every respect to that done by hand or by the wide variety of washing machines that operate on the friction principle, and which are designed for quantity, not quality work. It has no cylinder to lift out and clean and dry after each washing. It is not necessary to wash the washing machine after you have washed the clothes. The "1900" Cataract Washer is substantially built, and will give lasting satisfaction for a lifetime if properly taken care of.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)

(Copyright, 1919, Western Newspaper Union)

LESSON FOR NOVEMBER 23

JESUS CORRECTS JOHN'S "NARROWNESS."

LESSON TEXT—Luke 9:45-54.
GOLDEN TEXT—Grace be with all them that love our Lord Jesus Christ in sincerity.—Eph. 6:24.
ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Mat. 18:1-35; Mark 9:33-42; 10:13-16.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus and the Children.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus the Friend of Children.
INTERMEDIATE TOPIC—Hasty and Narrow Judgments.
SENIOR AND ADULT TOPIC—True and False Liberty.

I. Jesus Teaches True Greatness (vv. 46-48).

1. The occasion (v. 46). A contention among the disciples as to who should be the greatest. Jesus had just announced his coming death on the cross, admonishing them to let his sayings sink down into their ears (v. 45). They were disputing among themselves as to who would be the biggest man in the kingdom. The imagination cannot depict a condition where rebuke and teaching were more needed.

2. The method (v. 47). He "took a child and set him by him." Teaching by object is one of the best of methods. In this Jesus showed himself to be the master teacher. Christ was qualified to meet the supreme need of all teaching, namely to know the pupil and to translate knowledge into terms adapted to the comprehension of the pupil. He perceived even the thoughts of the disciples and met their need. When they were conscious of his knowledge, or when they were ashamed (Mark 9:34).

3. The teaching (v. 48). "Whoever receive this child in my name receiveth me." So completely is Christ identified with those who are childlike in spirit that he regards treatment of them as treatment of himself. (2) "Whoever receiveth me receiveth him that sent me." Christ and the Father are one, therefore, whatever the attitude one has toward Christ he has toward God. Rejection of Christ is rejection of God. (3) "He that is least among you all, the same shall be great." The one who in self-forgetful service takes the lowest place is truly the greatest one. This is the supreme law of Christian citizenship. (4) Are devils cast out by the name of the Son of Man? The one who was incomparably great identifying himself with humanity.

II. Religious Intolerance Rebuked (vv. 49, 50).

1. The case cited (v. 50). The disciples saw one casting out devils in Christ's name, but because he refused to follow them they forbade him. This spirit is liable to seize those who are really zealous for Christ. It often expresses itself against those who do not belong to one's particular church or sect. In determining whom we should admit to fellowship, two questions only need be asked: (1) Are devils really being cast out? (2) Are they being cast out in the name of Christ? The plain implication of Christ's words in Matthew 7:22, 23 is that one may even cast out devils and be a stranger to the Lord. There is a supernatural work which is not divine, so unless the mighty works are done "in the name" of Christ a Christian should not follow the miracle worker.

2. The principle declared (v. 51). "He that is not against us is for us." This truth is positively stated in Luke 11:23. "He that is not with me is against me." When it comes to man's attitude toward Christ there is no neutrality.

(1) Recklessness Rebuked (vv. 51-55). 1. Farewell to Galilee (v. 51). As the time had come for him to be received up he set his face to go to Jerusalem. The time of his sacrifice was come and Jerusalem was the place where it was to be accomplished. 2. The Samaritans refused to receive him (vv. 52, 53). This refusal was due to the impression that he was going to Jerusalem. Their national prejudices were so strong that they regarded his action as a national insult, therefore refused hospitality to him. 3. James and John vehemently resent this action of the Samaritans (v. 54). They regarded it as an insult to their Lord. Their love was so vital that an affront to the object of their affection was most bitterly resented. 4. The Lord's rebuke (vv. 55, 56). (1) "Ye know not what manner of spirit ye are of." He did not minimize the insult or question their motive. He who knew their hearts was aware that they were moved by love for him. He told them, however, that such insults were not to be met by violence. Religious persecutions are always wrong. The spread of truth is not to be by means of material weapons. (2) "For the Son of Man is not come to destroy men's lives but to save them."

A Fiction. That God being good is the author of evil to anyone, that is to be strenuously denied, and not allowed to be sung or said in any well-ordered commonwealth by old or young. Such a fiction is suicidal, ruinous, infamous. Socrates, in Plato's "Republic."

The Law of God. Wealth is a weak anchor, and glory cannot support a man; this is the law of God, that virtue only is firm, and cannot be shaken by a tempest.—Pythagoras.

Must a Child Be Pale?

Pallor, "Tired-Outness" and Poor Appetite Almost Always Remedied by Pepto-Mangan

It builds up the blood and thus improves the appetite and strengthens the body

There is but one legitimate excuse for a pale, run-down, listless child and that is some serious disease of one or more of the vital organs which of course, needs the prompt attention of a competent physician. Unless such condition exists, the weak, white youngster who takes no exercise in romping or playing can be materially helped by a course of that thoroughly dependable blood enricher and general tonic, Gude's Pepto-Mangan. This standard remedy for Anemia (Bloodlessness) has been continuously prescribed by physicians all over the world for over thirty years, to restore the weakened watery blood to its normal condition, and thus improve appetite, add color to the pale lips and cheeks and impart strength to the whole body. Gude's Pepto-Mangan can be had in both liquid and tablet form, no difference in its effect, the liquid, of course, being preferable for young children. When buying Pepto-Mangan be sure the name Gude's is on the package. Without "Gude's" it is not Pepto-Mangan.

WORK

(Wisconsin State Journal.) In the Chicago railroad yards some I. W. W. wrote on the side of a box car the inscription:

No beer, no work!
When the car reached Milwaukee a brakeman changed the first inscription as follows:

No work, no pay!
En route to Madison another workman added this:

No pay, no eat!
In the Madison yards, a maintenance wrote the final chapter:

No eat, no live!
Politicians may preach, preachers may preach, economists may write, sociologists may slumber and their combined output will add nothing to the diets:

No beer, no work!
No work, no pay!
No pay, no eat!
No eat, no live!

Then work there is no other panacea. Work is man's natural state. Every normal healthy man works, whether he has to or not. The world lives on production. Hence work must lend itself to production. The man who has an idea of a time when men shall live without work is on the par with the man who proposes to give everybody something without taking anything from anybody.

A photograph of the side of that old box car with its philosophical inscription would become a national treasure if hung conspicuously within the commons of every American city.

Man Responsible for Progress. The reasonable man adapts himself to the world; the unreasonable one persists in trying to adapt the world to himself. Therefore, all progress depends on the unreasonable man.—Bernard Shaw.

BREAD—3 loaves for 25c.

R. Bird & Sons Co.

The pressure tank at the school house let go yesterday afternoon and flooded the basement of the building. The boiler has not given satisfaction since it was put in and has been repaired several times to stop leaks. It was only the day before that a Columbus man worked on it. The explosion disrupted things in the room where it was located.

G. M. Ridgway.

Roy Hilles, aged 25, Xenia, railroad engineer of this place, died about midnight Wednesday at the McMichael hospital as the result of gunshot wounds. Young Hilles accompanied by Ben Viakens were riding to Xenia by an oil truck after spending the day hunting near Roxanus. In some manner the gun slipped from his hands through the flooring of the truck and it was discharged. The charge entered the unfortunate man's left thigh puncturing the femoral artery. The young man is a son of George Hilles, former clothing merchant and besides his parents leaves two sisters and a wife and two children.

HOMER TOWN WEEKLY

By J. H. Larimore
I read the daily papers—read the state and foreign news, of the doings here and yonder, and of leading statesmen's views. Read of wreck and fire and murder, baseball, politics and crime, marriages and births and deaths, of all the happenings of time. Read the whole edition over, from the first page to the last, news and comments, facts and fancies things to come, things of the past. Then I thrust the paper, for it is no more good to me; half the things that I've read over soon my memory will flee. Then I get the home town weekly, and with keen and eager eye, read the news it has to tell me news that's never dull and dry. For the news that's in that paper tells of folks I know and love, folks who are both friends and neighbors, folks whose goodness I can prove. Tells of church and school and college, lodge, society and store town improvements, council's doings, squibs and personals galore. Having read this good town paper, read and swell myself with pride, I crank up my ancient flyer through town and country wide. Far away sometimes it takes me, into the town and states, where I may take notes and figures and make civic estimates. Then turning to my roof-tree, call my neighbors to my side, and here I will abide. And with each returning Thursday, eagerly I watch and wait for the postman who is bringing the old weekly to my gate. Oh, I must have the great dailies, magazines and trade reviews, but the thing that makes me happy is the home town weekly news.

(Mrs. Larimore is a former mayor of Westerville, associate editor of Public Opinion and at present on the staff of the Ohio State Journal, Columbus.)

ROOSEVELT FUND DRAGS.

The campaign in this county to raise $1375 for the Roosevelt Memorial fund has been dragging for some time according to reports. Yellow Springs is the first in with $100. The local campaign is in charge of Morton Creswell who has about $150 for the fund.

HOW THE PEOPLE VOTED ON DIFFERENT LAWS

A review of the referendums held in Ohio on the acts of the legislature shows that the voters have never approved a measure passed by the men whom they elect to make laws for them.

Five acts of the general assembly have been held up by referendum petitions since the initiative and referendum amendment to the state constitution was adopted in 1912. In 1915, the Sprague law, changing the boundary lines of congressional districts. This was defeated, 329,095 to 271,987.

In 1916, the McDermott act, taking from the governor power to appoint county license commissioners and bestowing it upon county elective officials. Defeated, 355,207 to 242,671.

In 1918, the Reynolds act, giving women the right to vote, and be voted for, for presidential electors. Beaten, 564,972 to 420,168.

In 1919, the Crabbe act providing machinery to enforce state-wide prohibition. Defeated by 26,538 votes. Ratification of federal prohibition, defeated by 573, on face of incomplete returns.

There are two additional referendums to be voted for in 1920, one of which seeks to repeal legislative ratification of national suffrage, and another the reenactment of the Reynolds act of 1918.

W. L. Clemens reports the sale of the Andrew farm near Bellbrook to H. E. Kendig of Osborn. The farm comprises 111 acres.

Mrs. Jane Arthur, who recently sold her farm, is moving to Springfield this week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Stormont entertained a company of friends and relatives last evening honoring their son, Herman Stormont and bride.

The public schools have been dismissed owing to the explosion when the pressure boiler let go yesterday.

Dr. W. O. Thompson, president of the O. S. U. has notified the trustees of his intention of retiring next June.

Origin of "White Elephant"

The king of Siam in years gone by would send a white elephant to a country whom he disliked and whose fortune he wished to destroy. The man could not sell the elephant and the expense of keeping it eventually "broke him up." From that custom was handed down our present day saying, "He's got a white elephant on his hands."

The Wonderful Congo.

The Congo is the most wonderful system of waterway on the face of the globe. It has twice the extent of the navigable waters of the Mississippi and its tributaries and three times its population. Professor Dupont, once director of the Museum of Natural History at Brussels, said that its fertile valleys were destined to be the granary of the world.

Snakes Numerous in Idaho.

Pennsylvania, one of the most prolific sections for rattlers, has at least one large snake skin tannery and keeps hosts of people slaughtering rattlesnakes. Idaho, however, is the banner rattlesnake section of the country. Idaho has great ridges of rocks, in which are deep holes, cracks and caves. Herein rattlers breed by the eternal thousands and offer a vast industry for rattler harvesters.

The Six Senses.

In a primary school examination, a question about the senses was answered by a bright pupil in this fashion: "The five senses are seeing, smelling, crying, yawning and coughing. By a sixth sense is meant an extra one which some folks have. This is snoring."—Boston Transcript.

Turtle Unstops Sewer.

To open a stopped up sewer pipe, Frank Ward of Richmond, Mo., caught a small turtle and cut a small hole in its shell. Then he tied a string in the hole and started the turtle through the sewer pipe. Whenever the turtle stopped a pull on the string started it crawling its way forward again until the pipe was clear.

Quiet-Little-Dinner Note.

A minister was telling us the other day about hurrying around a hotel in Columbus with one hat on his head and another in his hand, not knowing why more than a rabbit where he got the second hat, and he told him not to mind that, as we'd often been that way in Columbus. And the good man seemed so alive that he can do some kindly act like this every day or so.—Liberty (O.) Press.

Quite Natural.

Bertha—"And do you believe that a woman always turns to the last page first when she picks up a book?" Fern—"Well, I have no reason to doubt it. I know it is the nature of the fair sex to want the last word."

Childhood's Wish.

Barbara wanted a piece of apple, but while grandfather was getting it for her she fell asleep almost overcome by her yawning. When she awoke, it was bedtime, but she winked and blinked and at last exclaimed: "I wish they had made the eye hinges a little tighter."

Interesting Old Bible.

One of the original owners of the Treacle Bible, living in the eighteenth century, had made notations on the fly leaf concerning "John, who was born on Friday the 10th of February, 1769, at a quarter after eight at night, was baptised at Crossgate church on March 16 following by the Reverend Mr. Wheeler, who died of smallpox, 12th April, 1769, and was buried the next day at Crossgate church, aged eight weeks and five days." Other deaths, marriages and births were dated as far back as 1701-1702.

Long-Lived Jews.
Jews can boast of an average longer life than any other race. They have always enjoyed remarkable immunity from tuberculosis, cholera and typhus.

Unworthy American Soldier.
In 1812, on the sixth of August, Detroit was surrendered to Gen. William Hull to the British, under General Brock. After Hull was released by the British he was court-martialed by the Americans, found guilty of cowardice and condemned to be shot. President Madison modified the sentence to dishonorable discharge from the army and allowed Hull to go free.

Had Enough of the Zoo.
Smithson—"Come with me to the zoo," Plimpton—"No, thank you; I'll stay at home. My eldest daughter does the kangaroo walk, my second daughter talks like a parrot, my son laughs like a hyena, my wife watches me like a hawk, my cook is cross as a bear, and my mother-in-law says I'm an old gorilla. When I go anywhere I want a change."

Artisan Wells.
The Chinese have obtained water through means of artesian wells for over 1,000 years. One of the most famous wells in existence is that at Grenelle, in the outskirts of Paris, where the water is brought from a depth of 1,798 feet. It yields 518½ gallons of water a minute. Many years ago a well in Persia was sunk to the depth of 2,100 feet.

Bonaparte's Short Career.
In 1802, on August 2, Napoleon Bonaparte was declared consul of France for life. Thirteen years to the day, the convention between the representatives of Great Britain, Prussia, Austria and Russia declared Bonaparte, then emperor of the French, to be a prisoner of the allies and intrusted Great Britain with his custody.
